

Seshadri Shankar

An Instrumentation Technologist and alumnus of the Indian Institute of Management Calcutta, Sesh has over 2 decades of insight from scaling large business lines as well as working with creative startups. He has experience scaling companies and meeting investor's transaction case in his role as Director with Baring Private Equity Asia with US $ 10 BN under management.

He has also spent a decade with IBM in multiple executive roles including as the VP Strategy and Business Development (M&A) for the India South Asia market and running a Global business line. Sesh comes with strong experiences in Operational Excellence and Transformation and is a certified Six Sigma Master Black Belt from GE.

He has also successfully founded and exited two startups early in his career and currently works with a number of exciting startups as an investor and mentor. He is also on the advisory board of GINSERV, one of India's earliest incubators.